Academic Year: 2022-2023

Committee Charge: The Student Affairs Policy Committee shall review and recommend for or against policy relating to the general social, cultural, and practical welfare of students, which includes, but is not limited to, policies relating to non-academic areas such as conduct and discipline, grievances and non-academic appeals, financial aid, human services for students (e.g. health center, counseling), organizations, awards, intercollegiate athletics, and other extracurricular activities (e.g. Greek life, residence life, intramurals). This committee also provides advice, as appropriate, on procedural matters that affect the general social, cultural, and practical welfare of the students.

Committee Calendar: 9/2/22, 10/7/22, 11/4/22, 2/10/23, 3/24/23, 4/14/23

Executive Summary: In the 2022-2023 academic year, the Student Affairs Policy Committee discussed and considered a handful of topics. However, none of these topics were deemed urgent, or required motions to be brought to the University Senate floor. In 2022, we discussed topics about promoting preferred student names on Bobcat cards, a general need for the university to improve avenues of communication with students, concerns about mold in dorm rooms, campus events for students post-COVID-19, and problems with student parking. In 2023, we discussed topics about campus crosswalks, syllabus statements for AI generated text, a revised diversity & inclusion syllabus statement from DEIPC, and a need for graduate student orientation events/resources.

Motions brought to the Senate floor: None.

Other Significant Deliberation (Non-Motions): One of the main topics discussed by SAPC was the need for improved communication between the university and students. After review, we agreed that the university was communicating well, but the students are not using available platforms such as Frontpage and GC-Connect. The next large topic was the concerns about mold in dorm rooms. This was thoroughly investigated with the help of the director for student housing and the university president. Third-party testing did not confirm the student claims of mold. Next, we discussed the problems associated with campus parking. We spoke with Jon Jackson in parking, and he explained that students are not using parking lots further away on campus. We also learned that part of the issue is from students living on campus, driving to their classes. Lastly, SAPC discussed the lack of orientation resources available on campus for graduate students. We spoke with Paris Story, who is the Assistant Director of the Graduate school. She also identified a need for more resources but indicated that there was a lack of personnel and funding to do more. Soon, the graduate school will be creating an online orientation module for graduate students on GA-View.

Ad hoc committees and other groups: N/A

Committee Reflections: SAPC meetings went well when we had student participation and student speakers. Without student speakers, SAPC did not have much to discuss. In 2022-2023, SAPC sometimes struggled to have student speakers, which was a byproduct of decreased membership in the university student senate. As chair, I spent my time organizing meetings, attending Senate Executive Committee meetings, and networking with other leaders on campus.

Committee Recommendations: For the 2023-2024 academic year, it is important that SAPC continues to work closely with members of the student government. Specifically, the committee needs regular student speakers at the meetings so we can properly address issues and concerns within the student body. It also became clear that it's too much work for the student government president to also serve as the SAPC secretary. In the future, the secretary should be someone else.

Maintenance of crosswalks on campus was the only item that SAPC was not able to address in 2022-2023. It is recommended to revisit this item and connect with Frank Baugh in Facilities Management.
